An Italian Market Adventure

Background and history of the market and the foods

Food tasting featuring the Italian Market's Best of the Best

Meet the managers and owners of the stores and shops

Philadelphia's Italian Market is world famous for its fresh produce, outstanding restaurant cuisine, Philly Cheese Steaks, delicious sweets....and the South Philly culture. The businesses include nationally-recognized artisan shops, cafes, neighborhood specialty stores...and everything in between.

But if you plan to visit the market yourself, chances are you'll miss the best of what the Market has to offer.

This is Chef Jacquie's neighborhood, and she's opening up the front and back doors to you. Her Italian Market Tour offers an experience no other tour can match.

Tour the Neighborhood Like Family

All food tastings are included in the price of the tour. And as you taste, Chef Jacquie offers the background on the market and inside stories on the shops and community.

And because everyone in the Philadelphia Italian Market knows Chef Jacquie, you get even more.

Your group will be invited to exclusive tastings...the kind never offered to other tour groups. You'll actually meet the shop managers and owners. And there's plenty of time for you to shop and bring the things you see and taste home with you!

Your tour is educational, tasty and fun. And every tour is different. So come back again and the experience is a new one. Book your tour today!

Other Culinary Programs and Events

Leadership & Team Building

Chef Jacquie's Leadership & Team Building Food Tour is an effective, fun way to bring your team members together.

The group will taste their way through the world famous South Philly Italian Market. They will meet the managers and owners of some of the market's most successful culinary businesses and restaurants.

Woven through the tour is a special series of Leadership and Team Building exercises that focus on the four areas most critical to Leadership and Team Building.

Food Demos, Prep & Tasting

Chef Jacquie combines food history and cooking rituals with secrets only a true chef understands to coax out the very best flavors and aromas.

As a participant, you'll learn skills you can start using immediately in your own kitchen.

And because it's Chef Jacquie, the group immediately becomes part of the extended family, complete with instant Italian culture.

Whether you go to her location or she comes to yours, you'll love your time with Chef Jacquie in the kitchen.

Culinary Travel Tours

Tours that place you at the best cafes and restaurants...even the best street carts in Italy! Travel with American comforts and the inside knowledge of a Chef and international traveler.

You will meet the crafts people who own the restaurants and shops. Visit local markets to experience how locals shop while learning about the regionally-grown foods and their use.

Or select a tour to nearby Eastern U.S. locations. Get a flavor of the culinary specialties of the area without the need for a passport!

Fundraising Events and Parties

Culinary-related fundraisers are among the best attended because of the prestige associated with them...and the fact that they are simply more fun!

Or maybe you have a party and want the food to be something special. It's time for Chef Jacquie.

Add a cooking demonstration to either event and make it even more special. You can even offer a hands-on demonstration where your guests get personally involved.

Make it an evening that they'll talk about with everyone!
