Welcome All!

No matter who you are, where you're from, or what you believe, we hope you recognize a piece of yourself in the unique story of America as found only at the Faith and Liberty Discovery Center.

American values like faith, liberty, justice, hope, unity and love have shaped our country and formed us as a people. These same values have motivated some of our greatest cultural moments and political achievements, from independence and emancipation to women's suffrage and civil rights. These values have pulled us through the nation's darkest days of war, domestic strife, and terrorist attacks.

We invite you to explore these values, their source, and the incredible lives of people they have inspired from America's founding through today. We hope that as you step into this journey of exploration, you will discover that these stories of great Americans – and the values they embraced – remain the values that unite us today. And we hope you will discover these values are an inseparable part of your story, too!
