Executive Summary

Employees Are Disconnected in This Post-Pandemic World: The pandemic has increased isolation and disconnected people. In a post-pandemic world, many employees still work from home. This makes it more difficult to form strong relationships with other employees.

Unique and Fun Team Building Activity That Bonds Employees: We propose a unique 2-hour team building activity that is acclaimed by global Fortune 500 company executives. In this program, your team will bond as they learn magic tricks, perform for each other, and celebrate each other's success, while reinforcing the importance of collaboration and your company's core values.

Outcomes: Prizes are given out, diverse inclusion is encouraged, relationships are deepened, problem solving skills are honed, and communication skills are sharpened. Your team will feel like they're on America's Got Talent!

Outcomes

Unique Experience

It's not just more of the same. Your team will have a different team building experience.

Your Team Bonds

You can bond introverts, extroverts, executives, entry-level employees, older employees, and younger employees.

Your Team Has Fun

Remember, you're not just hiring a team building facilitator. You're also hiring a professional entertainer.

Diversity Shines

It's much easier to be creative when everyone has a different background to draw from. They value each other's input.

Why Us?

You can't find this team building program anywhere else. Because the facilitator is also a professional entertainer, you know it will be fun. Jesse's clients include Johnson & Johnson, JLL, UGI, Luxottica, Costco, RE/MAX, and Henkel.
